

Best experience ever! That would be the perfect three words to summarize my last semester at Chulalongkorn University in Bangkok. During that time I have met new people from all around the world, learned Thai a bit, seen loads of attractions and even fed a monkey and played with a baby elephant.

To discover everything I try to follow local people and local students. They can always tell you about this charming, little places, show you the real exotic lifestyle or teach you some new skills. This list however could expand to infinity. I have never experienced so many different things in such a small amount of time.

Of course none of it could be done without the Interweave Erasmus Mundus Scholarship. Thanks to it my lifelong dream of studying abroad in Asia has been fulfilled. I recommend everyone to apply for a scholarship to study abroad, because what you will see, do and learn will be absolutely beyond any expectations. Now my second semester is about to start and I am looking forward to it.
